Scientific Management International have facilities all over the world, but our headquarters are in Andover:

Please note that this is a secure site, so you will be required to sign into the building and lock away your mobile phone for the duration of your time on site. We provide a safe place for storage of devices.

We also have a Rolec Wallpod charging point, which will charge any Type 2 electric vehicle. If you would like to use this charging point, please let your contact know prior to arrival and they can book you in for your time with us on site.
